THE BALTIMORE BASKET.

Another Bold and Outrageous Assault in the Monumental City.

Rev. Father Didier's Silver Jubilee-A. Curious Bequest.

Special Dismotch.

BALTIMORE, June 21 .- At a comparatively dely hour last evening Miss Clara Snyder, a young lady of 18, was the victim of an assault as bold and outrageous in its character as that of Miss Travers. Miss Sayder is the daughter of a well-known contractor, and a very attractive young lady. She had been visiting friends on North Carey street only a few blocks distant from her residence. A few minutes after 10 o'clock, after declining the offer of an escort, she started to walk home alone, having frequently so before. While passing some done so before. While passing some vacant lots, near her home, she was suddenly accosted in a threatening manner by a burly mulatto. Though terribly frightened she sprang forward and attempted to pass him when the ruffian dealt her a blow with a slung shot which strotched her on the ground insensible. He then rudely seized the prostrate girl and dragged her across the street and through a fence to a vacant lot opposite. Before he could offer further violence he was frightened away by the cries of Mrs. Hunter, who is Miss Snyder's married sister, and some companions who were fortunately passing that way, and who witnessed the assault.

Miss Snyder presented a pitiable spectacle.

Miss Snyder presented a pitiable spectacle. She was found in a reclining posture clinging to the fence and wholly unconscious. There was an ugly cut under her right eye and blood was streaming from her face. Her hair was disheveled and matted with blood and dirt and her clothing half torn from her form Finger marks were found on her throat and nock and her left wrist was badly wronched and possibly dislocated. This evening her condition was considerably improved and no fears for her recovery are now entertained.

The search for her assailant, a description of whom she was quabled to give, was continued all through the night, and this morning at an early hour Charles Durham, a noterious negro thief, was arrested on suspicion. He was taken into the presence of the young lady, who fully identified him as her assailant, and then locked up for trial.

nected himself with the Roman Catholic church, and among other clergymen present was the Rev. P. L. Chapelle, formerly of St. Joseph's church, but now pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic church, Washington.

The Rev. Edmund Didler, pastor of St. Vincent Catholic church, will, on Monday next, celebrate his silver jubilee on the twenty-fifth auniversary of his pastorate. Father Didler is one of the most popular preachers in Baltimore. His congregation numbers about 6,000 or 7,900, and his zeal and energy in building up the church work of his parish has excited the highest commendation in church circles. He is a native of Haltimore, an alumni of St. Mary's seminary, and was ordained to the priesthood by Archbishop Kenrick in 1858. He officiated as priest in Cumberland, Rockville, and Hagerstown, and while in the latter place built the church in Clear Springs, Washington county. He served for a short time at $1. Peter's in this circ. in the latter place built the church in Clear Springs, Washington county. He served for a short time at St. Peter's, in this city, and also at St. Joseph's, from which he was transferred to St. Vincent's as assistant pastor. He succeeded Rev. Henry Myers at his death as pastor of the congregation. All the societies connected with the congregation will unite in tendering a handsome testimonial, and the day that marks his silver jubilee will be celebrated with impressive ceremonies, including a reunion and solemn high mass and other interesting exercises. Father Didier has a happy promise of many future reunions. He is an indefatigable worker, and to his exertions almost alone are to be attributed the total extinguishment of the debt of St. Vincent's and thorough renovation at great cost of the sacred edifice. All the elections of the sacred edifice. All the elemesynary institutions, schools, &c., connected with the parish have been placed on a substantial bells has been placed in the tower of the church. The principal celebration in con-nection with the silver jubiles will take place an extraordinary condition that about one hundred years must clapse before the university can derive any benefit from the gift. The conditions are somewhat remarkable. The coupons bearing date until 1895 have been detached and the bonds will hear to interest until that time. After will bear no interest until that time. After that the coupons are to be re-inverted, or compounded annually and added to the principle until the decease of the last survivor of Hawkins, during which they were both the grandchildren of the donor and two grand- badly cut. The fight was about a woman the grandchildren of the donor and two grand-children of his friend, the Hon. J. J. Gresham, and for the space of twenty-one years thereafter. This is almost as confusing as Frederick in the "Pirates," when he discovered, paradoxical as it may appear, that although he was really one and twenty he had only five

If the new law which has just gone into effect here, providing for the protection of guests in hotels from fire or panic, were adopted in other cities there would be a less number of fatallities from hotel horrors than are now reported. Under this regulation all are now reported. Under this regulation all proprietors of hotels, in which twenty-five or more persons can be accommodated, to have placed in each sleeping room a plan of the floor on which said toom is attuated, showing the location of all rooms, balls, passageways, and openings, and all stairways and free escapes, and their approaches to and from said floor, and at every corner or turning of any hall or passageway to place a conspicuous sign, shewing the distance to the nearest stairway and free escapes, with lights so arranged that said sign can be easily read at all hours; also to place such fire escapes and fire nlarm bells (to be rung only in case of fire) as shall be dispected by the inspector of buildings. Any one failing to comply with this order after the expiration of thirty days will forfeit a fine of $150, and $25 per day for each day thereafter until the provisions of the order thereafter until the provisions of the order are complied with.

The can makers of Baltimore who have been on a strike for some months for higher prices have every indication of a successful outcome of their struggle against the manu-facturers. There are about forty firms in the city employing hands, of which number fourteen of the leading establishments have up to this evening yielded to the demand of the strikers, seven having succumbed this evening. THE BING DEFEATED.

The democratic city convention met to-ight. The hall was througed, and the street outside filled with interested persons. Morris Thomas, chairman of the democratic execu-tive committee, called the convention to or-der, and the body at once proceeded to the election of a chairman. This was the first test of strength between the factions, and the esuit showed that combinations made since the election between Senator Gorman and the friends of the Young Democratic association were much too strong for ex-Senator Whyte, whom up to to-day many persons believed had captured the convention by a large undority. As a matter of fact, Mayor Whyte has been badly left, and his henchmen, who went to the convention to night, hoping that he would be successful agree that he that he would be successful, agree that he has been defeated. Hernard Carter, one of the vice presidents of the Young Democratic association, figures conspicuously in the convention, and to his effort, almost unaided, is to be attributed the motion which prevailed to adjourn until July 10. There was a short fight over the convention, but it was carried by a vote of about three to one. Gen. George Brown, of the banking house of Alex. Brown & Sons, was chosen temporary and subsequently permanent president of the pointed, the ward officers being appointed as they selected their candidates. When the convention adjourned it was understood that it had been a fight between the Young Democratic association and the regulars, alias the ring, and that the ring had been badly left.

THE DEAD POSTMASTER.

Arrival of His Remains in This City-Preparations for the Funeral To-Day. The remains of the late city postmaster, Thomas L. Tullock, arrived yesterday afternoon on the 4:40 train, and were met at the Baltimore and Potomac depot by forty letter carriers from the city postoffice, headed by Mr. J. N. Mitchell, Mr. Frank B. Conger, assistant postmaster, George H. Plant, jr., Superintendents H. P. Springer and James E. Bell, and H. J. Handford, S. H. Merrill, Hon. Matthew G. Emery, and Messrs. Knight, Jochum, and Summerville, of the Masonic fraternity, received the bedy from the railway company. It was carried to the hearse by Messrs. Douglas, Parker, Gousenbach, Bergman, Reamer, Dennison, Tolson, and Torney, who acted as an escort from the depot to the late residence of the deceased, at No. 121 B street southeast. The other gentlemen followed in carriages. Mr. Seymour W. Tullock and his mother accompanied the remains from Atlantic City to Washington.

The DeMolay commandery, of which the deceased was a member, will attend the funeral to-day, which will take place from the Metropolitan M. E. church at 4:30 o'clock.

Base Ball Notes.

Mr. Robert M. Barr, who has been prominent in base ball circles in this city, left for Pittsburg, Pa., last night to fill a four months' engagement with the Allegheneys of that city. Barr is conceeded one of the finest pitchers in the country, and the ball tossers of this city will feel his loss. As an evidence that his services are worth something, he will be paid $250 a month during the season. Ormand H. Butler, a Washington boy, has een elected manager of the Alleghency Base Ball club.

The Peabodys will play the Orients this morning, at 10:30 o'clock, on the former's grounds, back of Lincoln park, and in the evening at 3:30, they will play the Potomacs on the same grounds. A very interesting game of base ball was
